

SECTION XXI.
 KSHETRA KSHETRAJNA,
 OR
 THE FIELD AND THE KNOWER
 OF THE FIELD.

SHR! BHAGAVAN said:

1. This body, son of Kuntl, is called the Field; thať which knoweth it is called the Knower of the Field by the Sages.—(xiii. 1.)
2. Understand Me as the Knower of the Field in all Fields, O Bharata. Wisdom as to the Field and the Knower of the Field, that in My opinion is the wisdom.—(xiii. 2.)
3. What that field is and of what nature, how modified, and whence it is, and what He is a,nd what His powers, hear that now briefly from Me.—(xiii. 3.)
4. Rishis have sung in manifold ways, in many various chants, and in decisive Brahma-sutra verses, full of reasonings.—(xiii. 4.)
5. The great elements, Ahankara, Buddhi, and also the Unmanifested, the ten senses, and the one, and the five pastures of the senses.—(xiii. 5.)
6. Desire, aversion, pleasure, pain, combination, intelligence, firmness, these, briefly described, constitute the Field and its modifications.—(xiii. 6.)
7. Know thou that Prakriti and Purusha are both without beginning, and know thou also that modifications and attributes are all Prakriti-born.—(xiii. 19.)
